TROM OUR OWN CURRESPONDENT, 25th January,

Wo do certainly live in the age of surprizes Two Kwang to varify my assartion. Yes, Macao was unexpectedly honoured with the presence of such a high personage. In the memory of man. no Vicercy has even come here and perhaps ever thought of having a glance at or a photagraph of Macgo. It was even said that the relations between the present Governor of Magao and Vicercy Liu were anything but friendly and that stupture was imminent. H.E. the Vicercy has of his own accord, without my official invitation or intitaction, come here to pay a friendly visit to Governor Graça, whose personal acquaintance he desired to make. At 9.30 a.m., under a salute from the Barra Fort, a monutain battery, and a guard of honour, the Vicercy and suite landed and escorted by a piquet of mounted police proseeded to Government House, and was received by H.E. the Governor, the Consuls, and the the eyes of the Chinese, chief in the least bemilitary and civil authorities, the reseption lasting till nearly one o'clock, when Governor Graca necompanied his illustrious guest to the Chinesegun-vessel in the inner harbour, flying the daughters visit the ancestral tombs and offer

14th January. Owing to the absence of produce and the approach of the Chinese New Year business is somewhat alack, indeed the winter bamboo shoot will be the only action on the market. I am told, however, that in spite of this our nightly atenmer continues to take away a full cargo every trip. After New Year the spring bamboo shoots will be in season and the second crop of oranges will be shipped, so in the course of another month a somewhat brisker trade may be looked forward to

Our oranges, the bulk of which are destined for ientein, do not ripen much before the middle of November, consequently only the more forward fruit can be picked and shipped in time to catch the last steamers from Shanghai to the north. LITTLE BULLEE. Various false readings, lax renderings, and unwarcanted additions have by degrees crept into the text of the famous lyric of "Little Billee," and the publishers deserve our thanks for baying learnedly and gravely sifted the evidence in favour of each version. Strange to say, there are those on whom the pocullar qualities, of this poem produce no impression; and who percoive its elevated moral tendency as little as its striking literary excellence. To these persons, but to no others, we owe an apology for offering to them the only genuind text of "Little Billee," as never before published:—Saturday Review. There were three sailors of Bristol City Who took a boat and went to sea; But first with boof and paptain's bisonits And pickled pork they boarded abo. There was gorging Jack and guzzling Jimmy, And the youngest he was little Billec. Now when they had got as far as the equator, They'd nothing left but one split pen. Says gorging Jack to guzzling Jimmy, I am extremely hungaree." To gorging Jack says guzzling Jimmy. We've nothing left, we must est wee" Says gorging Jack to guzzling Jimmy, "With one another we should agree !. There's little Bill, ho's young and tender, We are old and tough, so let's cat he. Oh! Billy, we're going to kill and eat you, So undo the button of your chimce," When Bill received this intimation He need his pocket hankerchie.

First let me say my catechism, Which my poor mammy caught to me. " Make hasto, make huste," says guzzling Jimmy, While Jack pulled out his snickersoc.

So Billy went up to the maintop-gallant-mast, And down he went on his bended knoo-He scarce had come to the twelfth commandment Whou up he jumps; "There's land I see; " Jornselem and Madagascar, And North and South Amerikee; There's the British flag a riding at anchor, With Admiral Napier, K.C.B."
